

PROP.SP.23 - Form N337 - Court

This PROP.SP.23 - Form N337 - Court Attachment of Earnings Order can be used where a landlord has obtained a judgment court order requiring a tenant to pay money, for example rent arrears, and the debt is not being paid.

Obtaining an attachment of earnings order is a legal means of enforcing a money judgment court order. It directs the employer to deduct an amount from the tenant's earnings each pay day and send it to the landlord.

For more information about enforcing a money judgment court order, see the Section 8 Possession Order page.

The up to date version of it can be found on the government website by clicking on this link to the relevant page: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/attachment-of-earnings-order>

Once you have opened the temporary website, you should save a copy to a location of your choice and print that copy.

Attachment of Earnings Order

This Attachment of Earnings Order can be used where a landlord has obtained a judgment court order requiring a tenant to pay money, for example rent arrears, and the debt is not being paid.

Obtaining an attachment of earnings order is a legal means of enforcing a money judgment court order. It directs the employer to deduct an amount from the tenant's earnings each pay day and send it to the landlord.

For more information about enforcing a money judgment court order, see the Section 8 Possession Order page.

The up to date version of it can be found on the government website by clicking on this link to the relevant page: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/attachment-of-earnings-order>

Once you have opened the temporary website, you should save a copy to a location of your choice and print that copy.

S

A

M

P

L

E